INFLUENCE

As a professional and civic leader, you see that a warm and welcoming business climate means an improved quality of life for employees, families and fellow citizens.

We see that too. Government regulations increasingly impact your ability to do business. ## FORTCOLLINSWORKS.COM

Business has a vision for the northern Colorado region: we want a prosperous, healthy community with a good quality of life. To create a healthy community, we need more good-paying private-sector jobs. One of the biggest impediments, however, is the lack of understanding by the public and government officials of what is important to business. To counter that, the Chamber created Fort Collins Works.

Fort Collins Works is a means of communicating the business community's economic vision. It is a data-driven, multi-year, multi-pronged communications and economic policy initiative. FortCollinsWorks.com serves as a host for a data-driven economic vision of the community that is promoted to government officials, city council candidates and the general public.
