Upcoming Project Opportunities for Engineering & Construction Businesses

Colorado's construction industry is booming! Infrastructure, road, bridge, dam, and building projects are breaking ground every day. Now is a great time for engineering and construction firms to get in on the action and build your sales pipeline.

Join us for a FREE event where small businesses can connect with local government agencies and large general contractors pursuing capital improvement and infrastructure projects. Get a forecast of opportunities and find out how to join teams and submit bids. We know you're busy, but now is the time to start pursuing the big upcoming construction projects in northern Colorado!

Date/Time: Tuesday, July 10, 9am – 12pm
